The Terry Group announces its merger with Donlon & Associates, Inc., a specialist healthcare consulting firm. Since 1995, Donlon & Associates has provided expert actuarial, financial, administrative and financial reporting services to employers, insurers and healthcare provider organizations of all types.

Donlon & Associates is merging into The Terry Group and the combined organization will operate under the Terry Group banner. Tom Donlon is now a principal and the healthcare practice leader of the combined firm.

“I’m excited about joining forces with Tom Terry and his outstanding—and growing—group of talented professionals,” said Tom Donlon. “We’ve worked together collaboratively for years and so this combination is a natural. Our clients will be winners in this as we both broaden and deepen our capacities to serve.”

Tom Terry added, “Tom Donlon mentioned our past collaboration. That’s right - I’ve known Tom professionally for 25 years and our firms have partnered well together. I’m particularly excited about this combination because it not only strengthens our existing healthcare capabilities, it also moves us forward strategically. We have our eyes set on the most critical client needs in the healthcare world. Employers are facing many new and important decisions in the near future. Insurance carriers and provider organizations are also facing new, risk-related challenges and opportunities. The Terry-Donlon combination is well positioned to help all these organizations succeed.”
