Healthcare Data Analyst

Competency in relational database architecture, healthcare claims data, and information technology is key to your success in this position.

The ideal candidate will be passionate about providing the best healthcare consulting services to our clients. They will be a leader that thrives on working with others to provide support for delivering high quality products and services to our end users in a results-oriented environment. They will have the tenacity to solve challenging technical problems with an eye towards quality results.

Competencies that support success in the role include:

- Well-rounded IT background
- Analytical thinker, able to assess problems logically
- Strong oral and written communication skills and experience working with a team
- Team player
- Detailed and organized
- Fast learner

You will:

- Import and interpret source data
- Scrub, clean and validate data
- Prepare input files for third-party data processing
- Analyze the data results and make changes if needed, before presenting the data to project managers and internal consultants
- Perform ad hoc SQL / SQL script programming and analysis
- Codify existing algorithms for risk-scoring and predictive analysts
- Develop custom reports
- Review work product to validate quality results
- Document and participate in peer reviews of all work product
- Provide support and subject matter expertise for other database users
- Participate in team problem-solving

Qualifications required:

- Bachelor's degree in computer science, management information systems, computer engineering, or related degree.
- GPA of 3.0 or above
- 2+ years of experience working with health insurance claims data
- 2+ years of experience in SQL
- 2+ years of experience in Python and R desired
- Able to interpret, scrub, process, and explain data
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office Suite, especially Excel
- Proficiency with either Tableau or Power BI